ALLEGED FORGER LEAVES COUNTRY

Henry Barlow, Said to Have Raised Check and Forged Name on Another Has Disappeared.

USED SUMMIE GREEN'S NAME
Reported That he Demanded Wages of Former Employer and Then Thrashed Him.

Although there is no warrant for the arrest of Henry Barlow, a farm hand of Noble township, there is every reason to believe that he is badly wanted here by reason of the fact that he has forged one check for ten dollars on his former employe, Summie Green, living south-west of here and has raised, so it is alleged by Mr. Green, a check for fourteen dollars, signed by him, to twenty-four dollars. At present the Grand hotel owners are holding the bag, while Bliss & Cowing, who cashed the twenty-four dollar check, believe that they can compel Green to pay the full amount as there is not much evidence that the paper has been tampered with, according to their assertion.

Barlow was in the toils last Saturday, but he was released by the authorities, when it was found that there was no affidavit against him. When he was turned loose, he told Sheriff Bebout that he intended to leave for the State of Massachusetts at once. Since that time local people have not seen Barlow, and it seems very likely that the Grand hotel proprietors will stand a loss of ten dollars, while Summie Green will stand a loss on the check, which according to his story, was raised ten dollars.

The trouble started last Saturday so the story goes, when Barlow went to Green's house and demanded that he pay him for certain work which he had done on Green's farm. It is alleged that Green said he owed Barlow nothing. The argument became warmer and the epithets were flying so thick and fast for a time that an encounter followed. People in the Green neighborhood declare that Barlow gave Green a thrashing and then wrote out a check for the amount he said was due him and compelled him to sign it. Green declares that the check was for only fourteen dollars, and asserts that Barlow raised it to twenty-four dollars before he cashed it at the Bliss & Cowing store. It was said in the store this morning that the words twenty-four were written out very plainly on the check and did not look like they had been tampered with.

During the fistie encounter, Will Mahan of the Green neighborhood telephoned Sheriff Bebout to come at once. The sheriff found Barlow and arrested him, but later released him, because Green would not file an affidavit against his former employe, the sheriff having no charge on which he could hold Barlow.

It seems that the alleged check forging and tampering with checks has been done since last Saturday, when the trouble is purported to have occurred.

WELL KNOWN AGED MAN PASSES AWAY

William Parker, 92 Years Old, Probably Oldest Resident in County Begins Last Sleep.

SURVIVED BY FOUR CHILDREN

William Parker, probably the oldest man in Rush county, died last night shortly before ten o'clock at his home in North Harrison street. Mr. Parker was 92 years old, being born in Kentucky on July 28, 1919. At an early age he moved to this county and with his twin brother engaged in the carpenter and wagon making business in Milroy. His death was due to senility and a complication of diseases.

Mr. Parker was for a long time a favorite with the children of this city, being familiarly known as Grandpa Parker. He had a great liking for them and never missed an opportunity of talking to them.

He is survived by four children, his wife having died several years ago. They are Robert Parker, Mrs. Mary Cline of this city, Jas. Parker of Dayton, Ohio; and Mrs. Ira Crouch of Indianapolis.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the residence. Burial will take place in the Upper cemetery, where the body of his wife is buried.

POISON CAUSED HIS DEATH

Coroner Filed Verdict in the Sherrod
Case at Knightstown.

Coroner Hiatt has filed his verdict in the matter of the death of Frederick Sherrod of Knightstown, which occurred on January 29, under suspicious circumstances, says the New Castle Courier. The coroner found that the deceased came to his death from some kind of poison. Whether it was taken voluntarily or involuntarily or by mistake could not be determined. Upon searching the clothing after the demise two empty cartons which formerly contained anti-pain pills were found. The verdict states that death was probably due to acetanoid.

BODY ARRIVED TODAY.

The body of Thomas Matlock, who died in Phoenix, Arizona, was expected to arrive in this city this afternoon at three-thirty o'clock. The funeral services will be held tomorrow at two o'clock. Burial in East Hill cemetery.

NEW LIGHT IN PLACE.

One of the new decorative street lights has been placed at the corner of Second and Main streets, for public inspection. The lights have not been connected as yet, but it is said they will be soon.

NEW RUSHVILLE NATIONAL BANK BUILDING

NEW BUILDING OPENED TODAY

Rushville National Bank Officers Received Guests and Customers in Artistic and Modern Home.

APPROXIMATE COST IS $30,000

First Financial Institution in Rush
County, Dating Back to 1857—
National Bank in 1865.

The officers and employes of the Rushville National bank greeted their friends and customers in their new building at the corner of Main and Second streets today. The bank opened up there for business this morning at eight o'clock and the officials have been busy today receiving guests and showing them about over the building, with an interior that is decorated always with an eye for the artistic and with an exterior that presents such an appearance that will leave a good impression on any stranger who may visit Rushville in the future. The building is modern in every respect and one of which Rushville may be justly proud.

Not only today but most of the time this week the officials of the bank have been busy between short spaces when they have not been moving from the old building showing curious visitors over the spacious building. The structure is estimated to have cost approximately thirty thousand dollars, which includes the site. It is modern in every respect and is equipped with all of the conveniences that could possibly be asked for.

Most of the furniture is solid mahogany, while the remaining pieces are birch, finished in mahogany, it being impossible to tell one from the other. All of the uprights of the partitions enclosing the officials are solid mahogany, as are the check desks on the outside. The desks at which the officials work are birch, veneered in mahogany. The brass grill work has a very pleasing effect in contrast with the beautiful mahogany finish. The windows both upstairs and down are solid plate glass. The pure English vein marble, which is used for the wainscoting, is one of the most costly fixtures in the new building's interior and is also one of the most beautiful ones. The vein runs all through the wainscoting perfectly. The English vein marble is said to be the finest and most costly marble to be had. The consultation room back of the massive and spacious vault is one of the most artistic parts of the building. A large old-fashioned grate adorns one side of the room. All of the light fixtures are in brass. When the lights are lit, it only shows off to a greater advantage the beautiful decorative work of the ceiling (Continued on Page Four.)

ASSERT BENNETT MAY NOT ESCAPE

It is Declared in Court House That Local Man Will be Punished.

THE CRIMINAL LAW IS MISUSED

Manner in Which Bennett Came by $529 is Still Mystery—Compromise is Affected.

It was asserted in the court house today that George G. Bennett, who was arrested here Sunday for the alleged theft of $529 in Charleston, West Virginia, recently, and who was started back last evening to answer to the charge of grand larceny, would not escape the penalty of the law so easily as is generally believed. It was said that the charge of felony is a very serious one and that the court, if it is in any way similar to the Indiana courts, will demand an explanation why it was necessary to go to the trouble to make out requisition papers to return the prisoner and then dismiss the charge.

It is generally understood that the case was compromised, which attorneys always consider a direct slap in the face of a court. They argue that a criminal court is not for the settlement of financial difficulties but for the punishment of men who wilfully disobey the criminal laws.

It is generally understood here that Stewart Trader, one of the men who was here yesterday and who seemed to be most vitally interested in the case, agreed not to appear against Bennett if the money was all refunded. It has been ascertained that arrangements were made yesterday for Bennett to pay Trader that part of the $529 which he had spent and that everything would be well after he had given back that part which he had not spent.

The rumors as to the manner in which Bennett came by the money have been numerous. It is known that Trader told certain men here yesterday that he was operating a gambling machine and had stepped across the room to get more money. It is said that Trader dropped the bills on the floor and that Bennett picked them up and made a hasty exit. Other stories have been told as to the way in which he got the $529, but none of them are known to be the absolute facts in the case.

FATALLY BURNED.

The four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hood was fatally burned at three o'clock this afternoon, while playing with matches. The girl's brother was injured while trying to put out the blaze. A neighbor extinguished the blaze when she turned water from the hydrant on her.

ADOPTED LARGE CLASS INTO LODGE

Modern Woodmen Had Big Time Last
Nigh—Connersville Degree
Team Did the Work.

HIGH OFFICERS ARE PRESENT

After adopting a class of 39 candidates last night the Modern Woodmen lodge decided to begin work at once on a class for April 15. The class last night was the largest ever taken into the lodge in this city. The degree team from Connersville did the work of initiating the candidates and their work was very gratifying.

Several high officers of the order were present including State Consul J. D. Bolg; Head Physician Z. C. Wolfe of Indianapolis, and District Deputy William Frank of Connersville. Mr. Bolg gave a stereopticon lecture which was very fine. About 50 visitors were present from Connersville and Knightstown. Cambridge City and Greensburg were well represented as were all the surrounding towns.

SEEKS A NEW LOCATION

Cambridge City Foundry, Employing 150 Men, Would Move.

The Bertsch foundry, located at Cambridge City, and employing over 150 men is seeking another location, says the New Castle Times. In the company's statement requesting the attention of various commercial clubs throughout the country the requirements named are that the factory building and side track be suitable for the construction of an electric traveling crane, made necessary by the weight of the machinery made.

SOUNDS LIKE DEATH KNELL

Passage of Sunkel Bill Makes Rough Sailing For Billman.

An Indianapolis dispatch states that the death knell of the numerous bills changing judicial districts throughout the state was sounded in the legislature when the house passed the Sunkel bill, empowering circuit judges in counties from 30,000 to 150,000 population to authorize probate commissioners to try civic and criminal cases. This action on the part of the legislature is to relieve courts where the business is unusually heavy and probably means that the Billman measure, which would unite Henry and Rush counties in a judicial district and create a separate district in Shelby county, will be killed.

MAY GET MONEY TO PAY LAWYER

Judge Blair is Told an Attempt Will be Made to Have Appropriation Made.

TO PAY FOR NOBLE'S DEFENSE

Indianapolis Attorney Writes he Will Not Prepare Case With no Assurance of Fee.

The clerk of the circuit court has received a letter from Everett M. Schofield, an Indianapolis attorney, stating that he will not defend Ben Noble, accused of the murder of Albert Sprague. The trial has been set down for next Tuesday and so far Noble has no defense. Schofield said in his letter that Noble's brother had made arrangements for him to act as the alleged murderer's attorney and that he, acting in good faith, had obtained a change of venue. But now, the lawyer declares Noble's brother has said that he will not assume any responsibility for the fees and for that reason Schofield does not feel that he can prepare a defense without any assurance of being reimbursed.

This puts the question up to the court squarely that he must appoint an attorney for Noble if the accused man has any defense in the coming trial. But the source of the money to pay the fees for such an attorney is another question to be confronted, as there is no appropriation in Decatur county for such a purpose and Judge Blair has been told that it is not likely that the Decatur county council would appropriate any. Local attorneys vary in opinions as to whether or not the Decatur county council could be mandated and compelled to appropriate the money for Noble's attorney fees.

Judge Blair talked to Judge Wickens of the Decatur circuit court again today by telephone and learned that it had not been customary for the county attorney to defend paupers in that county. He told Judge Blair that he would attempt to have the county council called together at once and have arrangements hastily made for the appropriation to pay the expense of an attorney for Noble.

But it has been said that the feeling in Decatur county is strong against the supposed murderer and that money will not be spent to employ legal advice to defend him. In case the county council refuses to make such appropriation the opinion as to whether or not the court can make the council furnish the money are many. Some of the best attorneys in Rushville declare that the court is all powerful and can compel the council to act. One attorney who has had considerable experience in court business asserts that there was once a similar case in a nearby court where the county council refused to appropriate money to defend a pauper. He says that the court said that he must have the money to run his court and if he could not get it in the regular manner to see that justice was done he could mandate any county body and order them to acquiesce to his wishes.

LONDON LOSING ITS FOG.

Abatement of Smoke and Increased Warmth Said to Be Responsible.

Statistics covering twenty-seven years have been published in London to prove that the great municipality is slowly but surely emerging from the fog. Years ago London used to wallow in fog for weeks at a time. The statistician shows by figures that improvement in that respect has been steady for close upon thirty years.

The period of observation has been confined to three winter months and the entire twenty-seven years divided into nine year periods. During the winters in the first nine years, beginning in 1883, there was an average of more than twenty-nine foggy days and about fifty-five hours of bright sunshine. In the second nine year period the foggy days numbered twenty and the sunny hours seventy. The third nine year period, which ended with 1910, showed ten days of fog and ninety-three hours of sunshine.

British weather sharps account for the improvement in different ways. One man says that the increased dryness of the city's atmosphere, due to the greater area of warm roofs and chimneys, dissipates the fog; another believes that the increase in the strength of the winds has much to do with blowing the fog away. Others say that the success attending the effort to abate the smoke nuisance has resulted in driving the fog from the city.

HOW TO SCENT TOBACCO.

Manufacturers Have Recipes to Tone Pungent Odor.

To overcome or modify the pungent odor of tobacco manufacturers of the weed heat it with flavors. The Pharmaceutical Journal recently printed the formula of several compounds which it said were in popular use in tobacco establishments to give added fragrance to the weed. Here they are:

First.—Cascarilla, 4; liquid extract of valerian, 4; Tonquin bean, 1; rum, 12; macerate for three or four days.

Second.—Tincture of cascarilla, 48; essence of Tonquin beans, 32; tincture of tolu, orris and valerian, of each, 16; oil of nutmegs, 4; oil of cloves, 2; oil of rhodium, 1.

Third.—Cascarilla, 2; valerian rhizome, 1; Tonquin bean, 2; orris rhizome, 1; alcohol (60 per cent), 40; macerate for seven days.

NO DELAY IS TO BE PERMITTED

New Constitution Bill Is to Be Rushed Through.

LITTLE DEBATE IS EXPECTED

As a Caucus Measure the Governor's Bill Apparently Has the Right of Way and Will Be Put Through as Rapidly as Possible Under the Rules—Women Suffragists and Prohibitionists Watching Proceedings.

Indianapolis, Feb. 16.—To have charge of the introduction of the bill for the new state constitution and to superintend its passage through the senate, Senator Stotsenburg was selected. Since it has been made a caucus measure it is not expected to occupy much time on that side of the house. Representative Seidensticker will have charge of the bill in the house as far as the floor work is concerned. As in the senate, little debate is expected. The measure will be rushed through as rapidly as the rules will permit. It is not expected that any change will be made in the measure after it is introduced.

The question was advanced by representatives of the anti-liquor forces interested in an amendment of the constitution to provide for state-wide prohibition as to whether the measure would be voted on by section or as a whole when put up to the people. Those in charge of the measure said the bill would be put up to be voted on as a whole as the only method consistent with the adoption of an entire new constitution. A representative of the Anti-Saloon League said that unless an amendment to the bill was introduced to provide for state-wide prohibition, the league forces would unite solidly to prevent its adoption.

The absence of any provision concerning woman suffrage has attracted considerable attention among the women of the state who have been urging equal suffrage, and these forces are expected to join with the Anti-Saloon League forces in an effort to defeat adoption of the measure.

In less than ten minutes after Senator Proctor had demanded a suspension of the rules yesterday afternoon in order to take up the new local option bill, prepared as a substitute for the recently enacted law on that subject, the measure had passed the senate by a vote of 28 to 17. This bill is designed to correct the new law, a general suspicion being entertained that the latter will not stand a test of the courts.

The senate also passed the Clark registration bill.

Some Omnibus Legislation.

Ten railway bills were hitched in one train of legislation in the senate and sped through the upper house. It is believed they can get through the tangle of switches in the house and then will see a clear track ahead before the end of the session. This procedure also marked the beginning of classified legislation as a means of expediting affairs in the senate and producing the speed which must be maintained by the legislature from now on. Three of the bills expand the power of the Indiana railroad commission.

The measure to create a state board for the examination of barbers, for the inspection of shops and requiring shops and barbers' tools to be sanitary was laughed out of the senate when it came up on third reading. The house committee on insurance killed the bill compelling fraternal insurance societies to submit to a state examination of their affairs and also compelling them to have an adequate reserve fund.

An amendment to provide for a "beer license" at $100 or $200 a year, for saloons that do not cater to the whisky trade, is to be proposed as an additional provision in the Proctor liquor regulation bill now in the house. The demand for such a supplementary license is said to come from German citizens who conduct small saloons.

A bill is to be introduced in the house to adjust the discrepancies in the various public school funds of the state and to set the funds on a solid working basis. A recent examination by the state board of accounts disclosed that eighty-nine counties of the state had discrepancies, amounting in all to nearly $20,000.

Legislative Reapportionment.

The legislative apportionment bill has been introduced in the senate. Much talk concerning the plan to reapportion the congressional districts of the state was indulged in at a joint session of the congressional apportionment committee of the senate and house. However, the committees arrived at no definite conclusions, and must hold another meeting to finish the business. On account of the fear that congress may yet decide to allow Indiana only twelve representatives instead of thirteen, two congressional maps will be prepared to take care of either emergency. The national house of representatives has passed the bill which would fix the number of Indiana representatives at thirteen.

An effort in the house to postpone indefinitely the Ratliff bill to prohibit children under sixteen years old, unattended, from visiting theaters and moving picture shows, failed, and the bill was advanced.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid. WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done. A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief. SOLD BY LYTLE'S DRUG STORE.

IS READY TO MARCH UPON WASHINGTON

Doughty Canadian Doesn't Like Annexation Talk.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—Dispatches from Washington to the effect that Champ Clark had said in his speech on reciprocity that the United States was planning to annex Canada were printed in the newspapers here. When

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

Dr. Pierce's

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

the House of commons met yesterday afternoon, Colonel Sam. Hughes, a former army officer, and the military member of the opposition, called the attention of the prime minister to these startling annexation dispatches and asked if the government had anything to say on the subject. Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied: "I have not had my attention drawn to it until this moment. I have only to say that the policy of the government is already settled, but if some nefarious intention of the kind mentioned in these dispatches should be put in action and the worst comes to the worst, I shall call upon my honorable friend and gallant soldier to dispose of it and guard our interests."

"Does the prime minister place the matter in my hands?" asked Colonel Hughes. "If so, I will proceed to Washington at once."

Administration Repudiates It. Washington, Feb. 16.—A few remarks by Champ Clark, in the course of debate on the reciprocity bill in the house, alarmed the president and his advisers and led to a public statement from the White House disclaiming any intention or ambition on the part of this government to annex Canada. Here is one of the statements by Speaker-elect Clark which caused a stir in England and created a sensation in Canada: "I am for it [the reciprocity agreement] because I hope to see the day when the American flag will float over every square foot of the British North American possessions clear to the north pole."

DOER OF DEEDS.

It is not the critic who counts, not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood. — Theodore Roosevelt.

Seven Decades of Cures

What We Don't Know.

Just what Tom Marshall's legislature is going to do next.

Don't mean to be impertinent but we fear if that presidential boom was successful we might have to conform to one of his Federal constitutions.

We still believe that we will have a pleasant June.

We would not care a "bit" if they would change that joke now.

The author of "The Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight" lives in Texas, where they never heard a curfew.

A bachelor has a conscience just the same as a married man, but he does not have someone to remind him of it all the time.

So far the groundhog has not come around and made himself obnoxious by repeating "I told you so."

Now that St. Valentine's day has passed, it might be well to remember that there are only four more shopping days until Washington's birthday.

We have not seen any of those new corset coats or tight pants and we have arrived at the conclusion that men will not stand for such dope.

We observe by the public prints that T. R. ate a fifteen-cent lunch the other day and find that is the first time "luncheon" was ever applied to a 15 cent meal.

WHEN YOU SAVE MONEY.

"You are simply 'funding your earnings.'" The scientific definition of capital is "That portion of the produce of industry which may be directly employed to support life or assist in production." You do not need to remember this definition, but the important thing to consider is that when you store up a portion of the rewards of your toil, you create capital and build up a fund which will support you and those dependent upon you, or provide you with the ready money for some profitable investment which may present itself to you later on.

If you have not started to save,
systematically, do it now.

RUSH COUNTY NATIONAL BANK.

as well as on the walls, all of which are finished in a green tint. The ceiling is in a greenish white.

The bank is the oldest financial institution in Rush county. The bank is approaching its forty-sixth anniversary on the time of its change into the new home, for on February 22 of this year it will have been a national bank for forty-six years.

Old records have been found which prove to a slight degree that the financial institution of which the present bank is an outgrowth, was first originated back near 1840. An old parchment, yellow with age, was found in the second story of the old bank building, which contained names of persons who subscribed for stock in the branch bank of The Bank of Indiana, to be located in Rush county. The parchment is dated May, 1839. The list of stock subscribers contains many names of prominent pioneers in this section of the State, all of whom are now dead. The name of Caleb B. Smith is found there. He became one of the greatest men Indiana ever sent forth into the world, having been elected to the national house of representatives, later to the senate and after that appointed to a position in the President's cabinet.
The parchment shows that more than enough stock was subscribed for to start the branch of the Indiana State bank but no record can be found of where the institution was ever founded or did business.

Records have been found, however, which show that a branch bank of the State bank of Indiana, began doing business here in 1857, which was the first financial institution in the county. It was organized with George Hibben as president, and William C.
Reynolds as cashier. It continued in business until July 17, 1867, when it was reorganized and changed into the Rushville National bank with a capital of $100,000. George C.
Clark was president at that time and continued in that capacity until his death, November 18, 1900. Joseph Oglesby was cashier of the reorganized bank until 1870, when he was succeeded by the late Edwin Payne, who filled that position for twenty-seven years, retiring in 1897. Theodore Abercrombie was chosen president at the death of Mr. Clark and still holds that position. John B.
Reeve succeeded Mr. Payne as cashier, and held that position until a few years ago, when Albert Winship succeeded him.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bassler were very pleasantly surprised at their home in East Sixth street last evening by the members of the Social Dozen and their husbands. A pitch-in turkey dinner was served in several courses.

A shower was given last night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Drake, who were only recently married, at the home of his mother in west Fifth street. About forty of their friends were present and light refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Drake received many useful gifts.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace will have an American Pathe film for tonight, the subject of which is "Hearts Hunger Happiness." The story told has enough comedy mingled with the heavier parts to make it a very interesting picture. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand will present an American film tonight entitled "Bertie's Bandit." It is a western comedy taken in Arizona, and the beautiful scenery of Arizona with the impressive acting are features certain to make this film attractive. Earl Robertson will sing "Rosebud."

Thrilling and Smythe will remain at the Vaudet theater for the balance of the week. Their act of the past three nights has pleased large crowds and tonight they will put on a new act which promises to surpass their past efforts. "The Ghost in a Pawn Shop" is the title of the sketch they will put on tonight. The first film will be a Thanhouser, "The Writing on the Wall." This one is said to be a great drama. The second will be an American film, "Vera, the Gypsy Girl." Both are good pictures, well acted.

WILL PLAY IN RICHMOND

Game Will be Curtain Raiser to the Earlham-Rose "Poly" Contest.

The local high school basketball team will go to Richmond tomorrow night, where they will meet the high school team of that place. The game will be played as a curtain raiser to the Earlham-Rose "Poly" game and will be started at 7:30. The locals expect a hard contest as from all indications both teams are evenly matched. It had been previously arranged for Richmond to play here, but the game was changed so as to give the team an opportunity to witness a college game.

"We," continued the dictator—"I speak for a considerable mass of the people—demand the return of stolen funds belonging to them. Our terms go very little farther than that. They are very simple. As an accredited spokesman, I promise that our interference will cease with their acceptance. It is on my personal responsibility that I add congratulations to the gentleman in No. 10 upon his taste in feminine charms."

Returning his cigar to his mouth, Mackenzie observed her, and saw that her eyes followed and rested upon it with icy and significant concentration. Apparently, she had not heard a word he had said. He understood, tossed the cigar out of the window, and, with an amused laugh, slid from the table to his feet. The lady smiled.

"That is better," she said, clipping her words neatly. "For a second lesson in good manners, you may now tell me by whom I am being insulted."

"I am an instrument of the republic. I was advised by wire concerning the movements of the—gentleman in No. 10."

"I have a question or two to ask you. I think you are a man more apt to be truthful than—timid. What sort of place is this town?"

"This town? Oh, a banana town, as they run. Grass huts, 'dobs, five or six two-story houses—population half-breeds, Caribs and blackamoors. No sidewalks; no amusements. Rather un-moral. That's an off-hand sketch, of course."

"Are there any inducements, say in a business or social way, for one to reside here?"

"One," said Mackenzie, smiling. "There are no afternoon teas—and another—there's no extradition treaty."

"He told me," went on the lady, speaking as if to herself, and with a slight frown, "that there were towns on this coast of importance; that there was a pleasant social order—especially an American colony of cultured residents."

"There is an American colony," he continued, gazing at her in some wonder. "Two defaulting bank presidents, one short county treasurer, four man-slayers, and a widow—arsenic, I believe, was the suspicion. I, myself, complete the colony, but, as yet, have not distinguished myself by any felony."

"Do not lose hope," returned the lady, dryly, "I see nothing in your actions tonight to guarantee your future obscurity. Some mistake has been made; I do not know just where. But him you shall not disturb. The journey has fatigued him so that he is fallen asleep, I think, in his clothes. You talk of stolen money! Remain where you are, and I will bring you that valise you covet so." She turned upon him a peculiar, searching look that ended in a quizzical smile. "It is a puzzling thing," she continued; "you force my door, and you follow your ruffianly behavior with the basest accusations, and yet"—she paused—a moment, as if to reconsider what she was about to say—"and yet—I am sure there has been some mistake."

She took a step toward the door that connected the two rooms, but Mackenzie stopped her by a light touch upon her arm. He was a kind the women seem to admire, big, good-looking, and with an air of kindly truculence. This woman was to be his fate, and he did not know it; but he must have felt the first throes of destiny, for, of a sudden, the knowledge of what report named her turned bitter in his throat.

"If there has been any mistake," he said, hotly, "it has been yours. I do not blame that man who has lost his honor, his country, and is about to lose the poor consolation of his stolen riches, as much as I do you, for I can very well see how he was brought to it. By heavens, I can understand and pity him. It is such women as you that strew this degraded coast with wretched exiles, that drag—"

The lady interrupted him by a gesture.

"There is no need," she said, coldly, "to continue your insults. I do not understand you, nor do I know what mad blunder you are making, but if the inspection of the contents of a gentleman's portmanteau will rid me of you, let us delay no longer."

She passed quickly and noiselessly into the other room, and returned with the heavy leather valise. Mackenzie set it upon the table, and began to unfasten the straps. She stood by with an expression of infinite scorn and weariness.

The valise opened wide, and Mackenzie dragged out one or two articles of closely folded clothing, exposing the bulk of the contents—package after package of tightly packed American banknotes of large denomination. Judging from the high figures written upon the bands that bound them, the total must have reached into the hundreds of thousands. Mackenzie saw, with surprise, and a thrill of pleasure that he wondered at, that the woman experienced an unmistakable shock. She gasped, and leaned heavily against the table. She had been ignorant, then, that her companion had looted the government treasury. But why, he angrily asked himself, should he be so well pleased to find this wandering singer not so black as report painted her?

A noise in the other room startled them both. The door swung open, and an elderly, smooth-faced, dark-complexioned man, half dressed, hurried into the room.

The picture of President Miraflores extant in Cibolo represented him as the possessor of a luxuriant and carefully tended supply of dark whiskers,

"WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?" HE DEMANDED IN EXCELLENT ENGLISH—"ROBBERY?"

but the barber Esteban's story had prepared Mackenzie's eye for the change.

The man stumbled into the light, his eyes heavy from weariness and sleep, but flashing with alarm.

"What does this mean?" he demanded, in excellent English, with a keen and perturbed look at the American—"robbery?"

"Very nearly," answered Mackenzie; "but I guess I'm in time to prevent it. This cash goes back to the people to whom it belongs." He thrust both hands into the pockets of his loose linen coat. The president's hand went quickly behind him.

"Don't draw," called Mackenzie, sharply. "I've got you covered from my pocket."

The lady advanced and laid one hand on the shoulder of the hesitating defaulter. She pointed with the other to the table. "Tell me the truth," she said. "Whose money is that?"

The man did not answer. He gave a deep, long-drawn sigh, leaned and kissed her on the forehead, and stepped back into the other room and closed the door.

Mackenzie foresaw his purpose and jumped for the door, but the report of the pistol echoed as his hand touched the knob. A heavy fall followed, and some one struggled past him into the suicide's room.

A desolation, thought, Mackenzie, greater than the loss of cavalier and gold must have been in the heart of the enchantress to have forced from her, in that moment, the cry of one turning to the only all-forgiving, all-comforting earthly consoler—to have made her call out from that dishonored and bloody room: "Oh, mother, mother!"

But there were shouts of alarm, and hurrying feet were coming up the stairs. Mackenzie had his duty to perform. Circumstances had made him custodian of the country's treasure. They who were coming might not possess his scruples. Swiftly closing the valise, he leaned far out the window and softly dropped it into a thick orange tree below.

They will tell you in Cibolo, as they told me, how the shot alarmed the town; how the upholders of the law came apace—the commandante in a head-waiter's jacket and red slippers, with glided sword, the barefooted policemen with clanking bayonets and indifferent mien.

They saw that the countenance of the dead man was marred by the effects of the shot, but he was identified as the down-fallen president by both Mackenzie and the barber Esteban. The story of his flight from the capital being made public just then, no further confirmation was deemed necessary. So they buried him on the following day, and his grave is there.

They will relate to you how the revolutionary party (now come, without opposition, to be in power) sifted the town and raked the country to find the dead president's valise containing Anchuria's surplus capital, but without success, though aided by Senor Mackenzie himself.

You will hear how Mackenzie, like a tower of strength, shielded Senorita Julia through those subsequent distressful days. And how his scruples as to her past career (if he had any) vanished, as her adventuresome waywardness (if she had any) disappeared, and they were wedded and were happy.

But they cannot tell you (as I shall) what became of the money that Mackenzie dropped into the orange tree. But that comes later; for it is now time to consider the wishes of those who desire to learn why Shorty Flynn lost his situation. It is deemed fit that Mr. Flynn tell his own story.

To be concluded.

NERVY BURGLARS

They Break Open a Jail and Rob Solitary Prisoner of His Money.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 16.—Two masked robbers made an entirely new record by breaking into the town jail at Warrior Run, Pa., near here, and, bursting open the door of the cell in which Stanley Jandus, the only prisoner, was confined, robbed him at the point of a revolver of $29. The burglars then escaped, and Jandus, who was being held on a trivial charge, finding himself free, went out and notified the police, who searched for the burglars, but found no trace of them except their footprints in the snow, which led to the main road and were there lost.

TAKING ITS COURSE

Walsh Pardon Petition Now in the Attorney General's Hands.

Washington, Feb. 16.—After several weeks' consideration by minor officials of the department of justice, the petition for the pardon of John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker, is now before Attorney General Wickersham. The attorney general will consider the petition as quickly as he believes is consistent with a thorough understanding of the case, and will then make his report to President Taft. Mr. Wickersham has found the Walsh case more complicated than he had supposed, and is going into it carefully. It is not likely to reach the president for several days.

DEADLY EXPLOSION

Black Hand Fires Bomb at Home of a Rockford Family.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 16.—Mrs. Rena Vitoli was fatally injured and her husband and baby slightly hurt by a black hand bomb which was exploded under the window of their bedroom.

The baby was sleeping on her arm. The arm was torn away by the force of the explosion, but aside from a few scratches the infant was uninjured.

Joseph Vitoli, the husband, has been an active enemy of the black hand for several years and has been threatened with death on a score of occasions.

Blood Drawn in French Duel.

Paris, Feb. 16.—MM. Rip and Fiers, two of the most prominent music hall review writers in Paris, fought a duel with swords, and, contrary to the usual duelling custom here, blood was shed, but only to the extent of a few drops, sufficient, however, to appease honor.

GROWING CHILDREN

play hard and work hard at school, and rapid growth uses up an enormous amount of energy and vitality that needs replacing.

This accounts for the many delicate, sickly and ailing children we see on our streets.

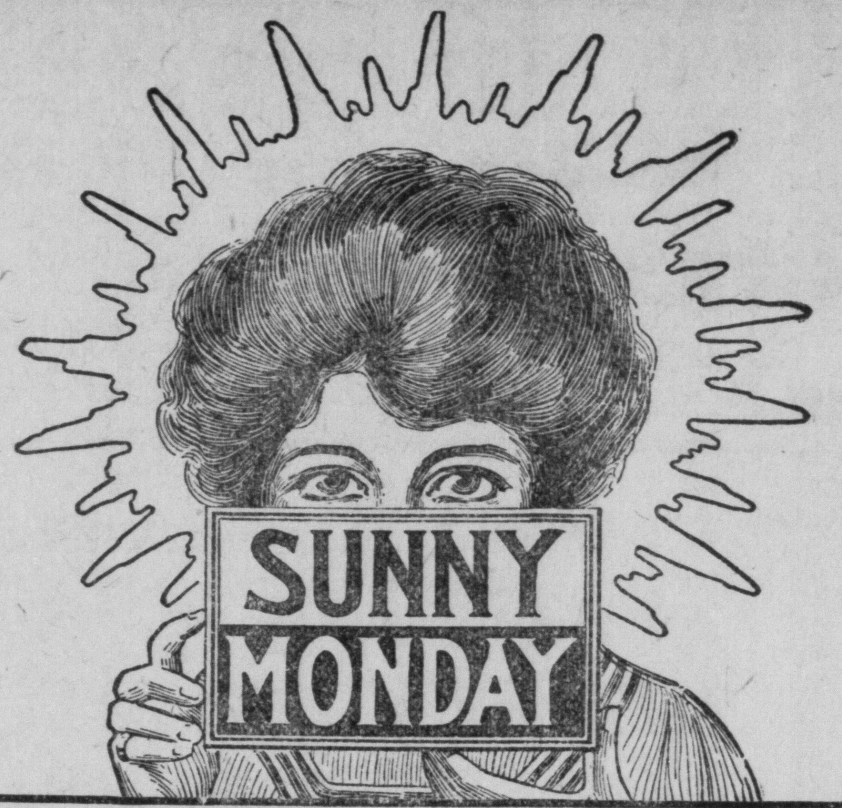

We wish the mother of every such child would come to our store for a bottle of Vinol, as is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic which children love to take, and it is easily assimilated.

A grateful mother in Durand, Mich., says her little girl was weak, pale, and had no appetite. She gave her Vinol and she began to thrive at once—and she gained rapidly in weight, color and strength. (Name furnished on request.)

Vinol builds up good healthy flesh and muscle tissue and makes thin little limbs round and plump.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that if it does not benefit your child your money will be returned. F. B. Johnson & Co., Rushville, Ind.

SUNNY MONDAY Laundry Soap contains a wonderful dirt-starter which saves half the rubbing. It will double the life of your clothes. Its real virtues may not be apparent the first time you use it. You have perhaps been washing your clothes with a heavily-rosin soap, and it will take some time for Sunny Monday to undo what the rosin soap has done. But after three or four washings you will notice a decided difference in the whiteness of your clothes.

TWO FACTIONS IN GRAND JURY

Situation Over At Danville Becomes Complicated.

MAY RECONSIDER INDICTMENTS

Minority Faction in Grand Jury Investigating Vote Selling Scandals Has Not Yet Consented to the Voting of the Bills—Break Between the State's Attorney and the Grand Jury Now Regarded as Permanent.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 16.—Against alleged vote sellers nearly 200 indictments have been ordered drawn by the Vermillion county grand jury. Twenty or more of these will be drawn by outside attorneys under orders from the grand jury and without the knowledge of the state's attorney. Material for the voting of 200 additional vote-selling indictments, making the grand total approximately 400, is now in the hands of the inquisitors. Twenty vote-selling indictments were agreed upon yesterday.

The break between the grand jury and State's Attorney Lewman in all probability will be permanent. A grand juror who gave out this information declared that a minority faction in the jury had not yet consented to the voting of the bills and that there was a possibility of their being reconsidered before the time to take a final vote upon them arrived.

A subpoena recalling Frederick Jahnke to the witness stand was issued at the direction of Foreman Woodyard. Jahnke is the professional politician who was reported to have made a clean breast of important secrets of the Republican machine when he was on the stand before.

Alleged Forger Missing.

Pontiac, Ill., Feb. 16.—Governor Deen has offered a reward of $200 for the apprehension and conviction of George M. Chaney of this city, who disappeared a week ago. Chaney is accused of forgeries which it is believed will total $75,000. The Livingston county board of supervisors also offers a reward of $200 for his capture and conviction.

Suicide of Aged Woman.

HENEY CAME NEAR GETTING SPANKING

His Gun Play Aroused His Six-Foot Opponent.

San Francisco, Feb. 16.—Francis J. Heney, the graft prosecutor, narrowly escaped a beating at the hands of District Attorney Charles M. Fickert at the Olympic club, of which both are members. Fickert after lunch went for his hat, when he came face to face with Heney, who has indulged in much caustic criticism of Fickert, who defeated him for district attorney.

When he saw Fickert, Heney became very abusive. Fickert told him to keep still. Heney reached for his pistol pocket, when Fickert grabbed him. Fickert is over six feet and was football captain at Stanford, so Heney was a child in his hands. He would have spanked Heney had friends not interfered.

It Wasn't Apoplexy.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 16.—The death of Commander Frank Marble, U. S. N., of the naval war college staff, on Tuesday, was a case of suicide. Death was not caused by apoplexy, as was at first reported. Commander Marble shot himself through the head with a revolver, but what prompted his act is a mystery. He had been laboring hard at the college and the belief is that his mind may have given way and in a moment of depression he shot himself.

Feet Tired—So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. NOT WANTED AT HOME WILL GO TO CANADA

German Girls Write In Quest of Husbands.

Berlin, Feb. 16.—According to a letter from a Prussian suffragette to the Tageblatt, German girls are preparing to compete with the English girls for Canadian husbands. Referring to the recent announcement that 5,000 English girls were wanted to become the wives of young Canadian farmers, the writer says among other things that "since the German government does not pay the least attention to the colossal surplus of girls in Germany, and as the high price of meat makes it increasingly difficult for respectable girls to get married, the girls of our circle have decided to become British subjects, emigrate to Canada and gratify the aspirations of Canadian bachelors. The Prussian government will then realize that the women to whom the right to vote is refused have been driven into the arms of England."

A DIRECT CLEW

It Is Now Known That Dorothy Arnold Pawned Jewelry in Boston.

Boston, Feb. 16.—When Miss Dorothy Arnold, the missing heiress, of New York, was in this city on Sept. 23 last, she pawned a watch, a neck chain, several rings and a bracelet valued at together $500 with a loan company on Boylston street, receiving about one-tenth the value of the articles. She gave her full name and address. John W. Arnold, the girl's brother, has identified the jewelry as that owned by his sister.

Valuable Prescriptions

Published Every Winter and Are Welcomed by Thousands—Clip Them Out.

Quickly Knocks Rheumatism.

This is recognized by doctors to be one of the most effective prescriptions obtainable to promptly cure rheumatism and back ache. "One ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound and one ounce of Toris compound. Add these to half a pint of good whiskey. Take a teaspoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bed time." Any druggist has these ingredients in stock or will quickly get them from his wholesale house. Any one can easily mix them. The good effects of this treatment are usually felt after the first few doses.

To Cure Indigestion.

A wonderful digestive mixture, which quickly relieves distress after eating, headaches, belching, sour stomach, dizziness, etc., and, if used for sufficient time, will completely cure the worst case of dyspepsia, is the following:

"Two ounces essence of Pepsin; three ounces syrup of Ginger; one ounce Catandir compound. These to be mixed in a six ounce bottle, shake well and use in doses of from one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. The Catandir is a comparatively recent preparation and may not be kept in stock by some of the smaller druggists but he can get it very promptly from his wholesale house. This is surely worth trying by any one with stomach trouble. In hospital work it has been very successful.

Breaks a Cold in a Day.

Get from any druggist "Two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Concentrated Pine compound. Mix these with half a pint of good whiskey. Take one or two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." Any one can prepare this at home. This is the best formula known to science. There are many cheaper preparations of large quantity, but it don't pay to experiment with a bad cold. Be sure to get the genuine (Globe) Concentrated Pine. Each half ounce bottle comes in a sealed tin screw-top case. If the druggist does not have it in stock he will get it quickly from his wholesale house.

Democratic Achievement Banquet.

Indianapolis, Feb. 16.—Local committees who will take charge of the arrangements for the Jeffersonian banquet, which Democrats of many states are planning to hold in Indianapolis April 13, have been named by Hugh Dougherty, chairman of the general executive committee. The affair is to be known as the national Democratic achievement banquet and is being organized under the auspices of the National League of Democratic clubs.

PASSAGE ASSURED

Only a Filibuster Can Now Defeat Reciprocity Measure.

Washington, Feb. 16.—A meeting of the senate finance committee will be called today, and it is practically certain that the McCall reciprocity bill passed by the house will be laid before the senate by that committee. With the bill once before the senate, the only way of defeating it will be by a filibuster, and it is uncertain at this time whether the opponents of the bill will carry their opposition to that extent. The supporters of the bill in the senate contend that they have the votes to pass it by a big margin, possibly by as much as 60 to 30, if it is not obstructed.

EASTERN OKLAHOMA LANDS

The land of opportunity, rich soil and unexcelled climate; rainfall equal to that of Indiana. The last chance to buy good corn land cheap. Remember that land suitable for successful growing of corn is limited. You will not find it in the Northwest or in the mountain country west; and the south land will never be a corn country in a commercial way. Our lands are also suitable for all the small grains, an excellent fruit country and the Stockman's Paradise, for no where in these United States will you find conditions so favorable for the growing of good stock. We make a specialty of farm lands and have a large number of good farms located close to good towns and markets, where you have plenty of good northern farmers for neighbors, free schools, telephones, R. F. D. of mails. If interested write for further information or come and see us. Room 335 Equity Building, Muskogee, Oklahoma, a city of 30,000.
